ARMY MULES IN MEXICO FOLLOW THE LATEST STYLES IN GOGGLES
Four hundred miles of alkali dust and hot sun are trying to the eyes of even a military "pestle-tail," so blinkers have been dealt out generously to animals as well as men. The fashion in goggles was first started by the gas attacks in the European war zones.

BIG STANDARD OIL TANK SET AFIRE IN TEST OF NEW EXTINGUISHER
To give a trial to a new chemical preparation, which is declared to be powerful enough to smother the fiercest blaze, this tank was filled with 11,600 gallons of oil and permitted to become thoroughly ignited. It was extinguished in one and one-half minutes.

GUN THAT BROUGHT DOWN ZEPPELIN
The gunner who fired the fatal shot from this new truck-mounted anti-aircraft rifle received $4,000 from the French Government.

"WEST JERSEY PROPRIETORS" RE-ELECT THEMSELVES IN 240TH ANNUAL MEETING

THE PRUSSIAN MINISTER OF WAR
The "highborn harr," Wild von Schoenbar, is shown here as he appeared on a recent visit to Bulgaria and conquered Serbia.
